Have just received from LEE'S PATENT and FAMILY MEDICINE STORE, New-York,

A FRESH SUPPLY OF THE FOLLOWING

GENUINE MEDICINES.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

THIS MEDICINE has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern and Middle States, particularly in New-York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburgh, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons in each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favor of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventors has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earliest stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these Pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile, and prevent its morbid secretions; to restore and amend the appetite; to produce a free perspiration, and thereby prevent colds, which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold, if taken on its first appearance. They are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness, sickness at the stomach, and severe head-ache, & ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S
Worm Destroying Lozenges,

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions of foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady, or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The Lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS,
And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz—The Teres, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Tænia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms, are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose; convulsions; epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs, with lowness of spirits; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens.—It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

The proprietor of HAMILTON'S RESTORATIVE DROPS confidently recommends it as an invaluable medicine, for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of Spirits	Melancholy
Loss of Appetite	Gout in the Stomach
Impurity of Blood	Pains in the Limbs
Hysterical Affections	Relaxations, &c.
Inward Weaknesses

The principal operation of this medicine is in the stomach, restoring the digestive power, and sending from that organ new health and vigor into every part of the system; it enriches and purifies the blood without stimulating, too violently, the nervous system; strengthens the secretory vessels and general habits, brings back the muscular fibres to their natural and healthy tone; and restores that nutrition which immoderate evacuations have destroyed, and whose loss had thrown the whole frame into langour and debility.

The Restorative is absolutely above all commendation in removing those weaknesses and infirmities with which many females are afflicted, the consequences of difficult and painful labours, or of injudicious treatment therein.

In cases of extremity, where the long prevalence and obstinacy of disease have brought on a general impoverishment of the system, excessive debility of the whole frame, and a wasting of the flesh, which no nourishment or cordial could repair.

Perseverance in the use of this medicine has performed the most astonishing cures.

The Grand Restorative is prepared in Pills, as well as in a fluid form, which assists considerably in producing a gradual & lasting effect.

ESSENCE & EXTRACT OF MUSTARD,

A safe and effectual remedy for Rheumatisms, Gout, Palsy, Sprains and Bruises, White Swellings, old Strains and Relaxations, Numbness and Weakness of the Neck, Pains of the Side, Headache, Swelled Faces, Frozen Limbs, and every similar complaint. It prevents Chilblains, or Chopped Hands, and the ill effects of getting wet or damp in the feet.

THE GENUINE PERSIAN LOTION,

So celebrated among the fashionable thro'out Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, (the basis of other Lotions) and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural, insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth, and improving the complexion.

THE RESTORATIVE POWDER,
For the Teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses & whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which, suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

HAMILTON'S
ELIXIR FOR COUGHS,

Celebrated for the cure of colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, and approaching consumptions, and a certain remedy for the whooping cough.

HAHN'S
GENUINE EYE WATER,

BLANK SUMMONSES,
Printed on fine paper and on a new and elegant type.

From the Philadelphia True American.

Mrs. Vernon was the daughter of —— ——, Esq. of Bristol, Rhode-Island, married about two years since to Mr. Vernon of New-York; in the bloom of life, naturally amiable, accomplished, rich. She had been in the habit of reading much; among other authors Hume and Voltaire were her favorites. She had adopted deistical sentiments, which were unhappily strengthened by the precepts and example of a beloved parent. I have been informed that she belonged to a society of young ladies in her native place, that met together for the purpose of confirming themselves in their infidel principles; and I know that during the great revival of religion in Bristol, three years ago, she endeavored to persuade a young woman who was under distress of mind, and was then converted, that it was all a delusion. At the height of worldly prosperity, a most affectionate husband on whom she doted, and just blessed with a pledge of their affection, a little daughter, it pleased the Lord to arrest her course by commissioning a consumption to attack her. She bore her sickness with great fortitude, saw the approach of her dissolution without dismay, saw no need of a Saviour's justifying righteousness, and thus remained till a few days before her death (the 6 or 7th ——.) Her husband was very anxious for a change of her religious sentiments, he believing that there was no other name whereby we can be saved, than that of the Lord Jesus Christ.

He obtained permission to send for the Rev. Dr. Mason, the person they had been in the habit of hearing, since their removal to New-York. He came, conversed with Mrs. V. who candidly told him she felt secure, had no need of a Saviour, and could not see how the Lord Jesus Christ could atone for her sins, thousands of years before she existed. He reasoned with her, but without success, and had at last to conclude by saying he could not convert the heart, that he had no consolation to offer her. He prayed with her, she heard, unmoved, he left her, under the deepest despondence, considering her one of the most hopeless cases he had ever been called to visit. The feelings of this estimable man's heart were so acute at the hopeless situation of this amiable immortal, that after leaving her, he burst into tears, the prayerful shower which was soon to be followed by an abundant harvest. She permitted her husband to read the scriptures to her daily.—On the 6th or 7th day prior to her decease he began the sermon on the mount, and was for desisting at the close of the chapter. She requested him to continue the sermon, and as he was approaching the conclusion cried out, "these are the words of God." This was the commencement of her convictions, which were excruciating, and her feeble frame must have sunk under them, had not the Lord, who is rich in mercy, spoke peace to her heart, and revealed himself to her in all his fullness as the way, the truth and the life. Her distress lasted an hour or two, and during that time she had been permitted to see the spirituality of the law, that it reaches to the thoughts and intents of the heart, that sin is rebellion against the Most High; and an infinite evil, being committed against an infinite and holy God, and that he who offends in one point is guilty of all —that a God all mercy is a God unjust. Now her theme was the Lord Jesus; "he died for me," was her language—and her triumph was great to the moment of her dissolution, when she cried out 'the Saviour smiles upon me.'—She had some slight intermissions of doubt, unquestionably by the adversary, which only drove her nearer to her new friend, her heavenly, her omnipotent Saviour. Previous to her conversion her frame was so feeble that she could scarcely be heard by those nearest—when she began to rejoice in the liberty of the gospel, she had such strength given her as to be heard two stories below by the servants. Her husband on the day of conversion, before he began to read, asked her if she continued in the same sentiments—she told him 'yes.' She continued sensible to the last. Singing psalms and hymns was her delight after conversion. One 'How long oh! Lord,' was her favourite. Her desire to her friends, was to pray that she might not be too anxious to be gone.

She wished her little child to be early taught the principles of the christian religion, and not suffered to hear any cavilling conversations on that subject. She sent a message to the ministers of the gospel in Bristol, to be more engaged in their master's course.

The above account I have in a great measure from her sister-in-law, who was an eye and an ear witness. Mrs. Vernon died in New York, the beginning of April, 1815.

From the Western Journal.

INDIAN ELOQUENCE.

On the night of the 14th July the Black Buffaloe, principal chief of the Teton tribe of Indians, departed this life at Portage des Sioux. The succeeding day he was solemnly interred with the honours of war. Robert Wash, Esq. secretary to the commissioners, has furnished the following speech delivered by Big Elk, Maha chief. It is truly eloquent, and is a high evidence that genius of the most brilliant description is not confined to the civilized world. The speech is pathetic and filled with energy. It is literally given.

SPEECH.

Do not grieve. Misfortunes will happen to the wisest and best men. Death will come and always comes out of season. It is the command of the great Spirit, and all nations and people must obey. What is past and cannot be prevented should not to be grieved for. Be not discouraged or displeased then, that in visiting your father here, you have lost your chief. A misfortune of this kind may never again befall you, but this would have attended you perhaps at your own village. Five times have I visited this land and never returned with sorrow or pain. Misfortunes do not flourish particularly in our path. They grow every where. [Addressing himself to gov. Edwards and col. Miller] What a misfortune for me, that I could not have died this day, instead of the chief that lies before us. The trifling loss my nation would have sustained in my death would have been doubly paid for by the honors of my burial: they would have wiped off every thing like regret. Instead of being covered with the cloud of sorrow my warriors would have felt the sunshine of joy in their hearts. To me it would have been a most glorious occurrence. Hereafter then we die at home, instead of a noble grave and a grand procession, the rolling music and the thundering cannon, with a flag waving at my head—I shall be wrapped in a robe, (an old robe perhaps) and hoisted on a slender scaffold to the whistling winds, soon to be blown to the earth—my flesh to be devoured by the wolves, and my bones rattled on the plain by the wild beasts.

[Addresses himself to col. Miller.]

Chief of the Soldiers! Your labours have not been vain. Your attention shall not be forgotten. My nation shall know the respect that is paid over the dead.—When I return I will echo the sound of your guns.

It will be recollected that Black Thunder, a Fox chief, has ever maintained a friendly disposition towards the U. S. Although from the conduct of the Sacs and Foxes, suspicion may have alighted upon him, yet no evidence of hostility has yet been discovered or manifested. His conduct seems to have been decided and uniform. On the 20th July the commissioners met some Fox Indians in the Council Arbor at Portage; and were first addressed by one of a different tribe: He is said to have trembled like an Aspen leaf, scarcely, (no doubt from consciousness of guit) being able to articulate.—When he had finished, the Black Thunder rose, and with a firm and manly dignity delivered the following speech. It was addressed to gov. Clark as the organ of the commissioners.

SPEECH.

My Father—Restrain your feelings, and hear calmly what I shall say. I shall tell it to you plainly. I shall not speak with fear and trembling. I feel no fear. I have no cause to fear. I have never injured you, and innocence can never feel fear. I turn to all, red skins, and white skins, & challenge an accusation against me.

My Father—I don't understand well how things are working. I have been just set at liberty. Am I again to be plunged into bondage? I know not how or where to turn my head; frowns are on all sides. I have never forgot what my great father told me. No man has ever been able to change me. You may perhaps, my father, be ignorant of what I tell you, but it is a truth to which I call heaven & earth to witness; a fact that can be easily proved, that I have been assailed in every possible way that pride, fear, interest or feeling could touch me; that I have been pushed to the last point, for to take up the tomahawk against you: But all in vain. I could never be made to feel that you were my enemy. If this be the conduct of an enemy, I shall never be your friend.

You are acquainted, my Father, with my removal from Prairie du Chien. I went and formed a settlement and called my warriors around me. We counselled and took our determination, from which we have never departed. We smoked, and resolved to make common cause with the U. S. I sent you the pipe. I took great pains in sending it, that the Indians of the Mississippi might not know what was doing. I sent it by the Missouri. It resembled this; you received it; my determination was then taken. I told you we were ready to make war; that your enemies should be our enemies, and waited only for the signal. If doing all this is to manifest a hostile disposition, I do not know how to be friendly. These things I tell you, because it is a truth; a melancholy truth, that the good things which men do are often buried in the ground & forgot; whilst their evil deeds are stripped naked, and proclaimed to the world.

My Father, when I come it was simply to hear what you had to say to me. I little thought I should have to defend myself. If I had been your enemy, I would doubtless have taken some caution; I would have come with my excuses all prepared; but having ever held you by the hand, I have no excuses to offer; I consider myself, and wish to be considered in the same condition as before the war; If I had fought against you, I would have told it to you, as those of my nation who have, will be compelled to do when they come; it will be for them to make their own defence in the best way they can; I have nothing to say but for myself and tribe.

My Father, As to what has or may be done in council here, I have nothing to say; but there is one thing I must say; it is simply to repeat what I said to my great Father, the president of the U. S. You heard it and no doubt remember it; it is simply to say, that my lands can never be surrendered; I was cheated, basely cheated, in the contract. While I live they shall never be surrendered.

My Father, I call heaven and earth to witness, and smoke the pipe in evidence of the truth and sincerity of what I have said. I remember the sentiments my great Father expressed towards me. I hope he and you still cherish the same; if you do I know you will receive the pipe; my only desire is to smoke it with you; to grasp your sacred hand & claim the protection of the U. S. for myself and tribe. I hope as the pipe reaches your lips, it will operate as a blessing on all my tribe; that the smoke will rise like a cloud, and as it passes away, will carry with it all the animosities that have arisen between us.

From the Hampshire Mass. Gazette.

On Tuesday last JONATHAN JEWETT was arraigned before the supreme judicial court, for the murder of his father.—The jury retired for a short time and found the prisoner Guilty.

SENTENCE OF DEATH, was pronounced on Friday morning, by chief justice PARKER, who has at our request politely favoured us with a copy.

JONATHAN JEWETT, Jr.

You are now for the last time placed at the bar of this human tribunal; that the sentence of the law for the attrocious crime of which you have been convicted, may be awarded against you.

At the last term of this court, the grand jury of these counties presented an indictment against you for the crime of murder, which indictment was then continued because the court at that time had not authority to hear and try a capital offence; you was however brought into Court and informed of the charge, for the humane purpose of enabling you to prepare for your defence at this succeeding term of the court.

At the beginning of this term you was arraigned at the bar, and pleaded not guilty to the charge; and you then put yourself upon GOD and your country for trial.

Two able counsellors of this court, chosen by yourself, were assigned to prepare your defence, and to advocate your cause before the court and jury.

When put upon your trial, you freely exercised the right of challenge, and 12 good and faithful men, free from all prejudice, were sworn well and truly to try the issue and a true deliverance make between the commonwealth and yourself.

After a patient and impartial investigation by that jury during the whole day, aided by the faithful and learned labors of your chosen counsel, and by the advice of the court in matters of law, you have been pronounced by their verdict guilty of the crime whereof you had been charged by the grand jury.

The testimony upon which this verdict was founded came from witnesses of your own colour and kindred, so that no bias or prejudice against you can be suspected.

The court, after deliberation, see no cause to doubt the justice or legality of the verdict of the jury. You must therefore be taken and adjudged to be a murderer as set forth in the indictment upon which you have been so fairly and impartially tried and convicted.

The record of this court will only show that you have been guilty of murder; but it was proved on the trial that the victim of your furious and vindictive passion was a feeble old man bowed down with weight of years and infirmities, had been spared by the almighty beyond the common period of human life, and that this man was the author of your being, YOUR FATHER.

The law knows no distinction in the crime of murder; to take the life of a reasonable being with malice aforethought is deemed to be a proof of the last stage of human depravity, and the degrees of atrocity cannot be ascertained by grades of punishment. Death is the penalty of murder, and more than death cannot be inflicted by human tribunals.

But in the sight of that GOD who gave you life through him whose life you have taken, the murder of a parent cannot but be viewed as exceeding in atrocity, beyond the comparison, any other crime which a human being is capable of committing.

This aged man, from whose loins you sprang, and under whose roof you enjoyed protection and support, chided you for your idle and dissolute life, and that not with more severity than your habits and conduct required.

You did not deny his accusation, that you left him in extreme age to labor not only for his own but for your comfort and subsistence; while you wasted your time in idle and vicious pursuits. Instead of listening with becoming silence and respect to reproaches so well deserved, and with resolutions to amend your life, with the ferocity of a savage or beast of prey, you sprang towards the instrument of death, and with remorseless fury buried it in the bosom of your father, and even after this fatal blow, which pierced the fountain of life itself, was struck, you dragged the poor victim of your brutal rage across the room, and gave him another cruel and probably mortal wound, with the same deadly weapon.

The sanguinary deed, so unnatural, so barbarous, could not have been committed by one who until then had passed a life of innocence, and virtue: but scenes of blood must have been familiar to you, and human life must have been your sport.

The evidence on the trial furnishes ample reason to believe that if your savage fury had not been intercepted, you would before this have expiated as far as you could by an human act or suffering, the death of the same old man, who being entitled to your love and respect, has been the object of your ferocious and unbridled passions.

The idle, dissolute and vicious life you have spent has no doubt hardened your heart and stifled your conscience; but it is to be hoped you know there is a world to come, and a GOD whose tribunal is more awful than that before which you have appeared, and whose anger if not appeased by sincere contrition you cannot stand before.

Employ then the season of life which may be left you, in searching your heart and in repentance for all the crimes you may have committed; for they all known to that Being into whose presence your last horrid deed has hurried you.

Even now if you call upon him in sincerity of heart, he may forgive you, the Saviour Jesus Christ may intercede for you; and the punishment which the law is now about to award may be the last you will be called to suffer.

The sentence of the law which according to the solemn duty imposed upon them, the court now declare, is that you be removed from this bar to the prison from whence you was taken, that from thence you be carried to the place of Execution, where you shall be hanged by the neck until you are dead!

And may God Almighty of his infinite grace, have mercy upon your soul.

By the evidence it appeared that on the evening of the 26th Dec. last, the prisoner having spent the day from home in idleness and dissipation, returned home between 8 and 9 o'clock. That the deceased a man near 80 years old, reproved him for his idleness and neglect of duty, and complained of the hardship of being obliged in his old age, to provide provisions and fuel for the family, and to support his son in habits of profligacy and vice. and threatened to have him "taken care of."

This reproof, so well merited by the prisoner, was answered by some angry and insolent remark; and by an inquiry if the deceased "meant to have a quarrel?" To which the decease replied, if this was quarreling he did—The prisoner then said it was best to have it settled directly—and thereupon instantly rose from his chair, seized a butcher knife from a shelf and plunged it into his father's side.—Not satisfied with this, he dragged him across the room, seated him on a chest, and gave him another savage and mortal wound in his bowels, whereupon the old man fell upon the floor and instantly expired. While the prisoner was in pursuit of the knife, and before he had reached it, he received a blow upon his head from the deceased, with a small pine stick; and it was attempted on this ground to reduce the offence to man slaughter.

The prisoner was very ably and eloquently defended by Eli P. Ashmun and Samuel Howe, Esqs. and the prosecution was conducted on the part of the Commonwealth with great ability, by the Solicitor General. The trial lasted the whole day, and the cause having been summed up to the jury in a humane and impartial manner by the Chief Justice they returned a verdict in the evening, after about an hours consideration, in which they declared the prisoner Guilty. This verdict was highly satisfactoy to the numerous crowd who attended the trial, & reflects great credit upon the independence and firmness of the Jury.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.

Latest from France.

Last evening arrived at this port the fast sailing ship Horatio, Brilee, in 32 days from Nantz, which port she left on the 26th August.

By this arrival we learn verbally that France was quiet; that the French army was entirely disbanded and that no foreign troops were in the neighborhood of Nantz.

By the Horatio the editors of the Mercantile Advertiser have received a file of the Paris Moniteur of the 20th of August inclusive, from which the following translations were made; they are the only articles of interest the papers contain.

LONDON, AUG. 14.

Bonaparte was on Friday last off Manieles—His majesty's ship Zenobia put on shore at Falmouth several letters from the Northumberland; a letter from Falmouth says, "We learn by an officer belonging to the Northumberland that monsier Bonaparte appears very glad at having escaped from justice, and being well settled in that vessel where his first question was whether any of the officers would play at whist.—He has a long voyage to make and wishes to pass his time agreeably.

LONDON, AUGUST 15.

It is believed that in the treaty of commerce that is about to be concluded between Great Britain and France, the cotton manufactures of the former and the silk stuffs of the latter, will be reciprocally received under moderate duties.

The honourable Mr. Bagot, ambassador to the U. S. of America, is to embark in the Lacedemonian, for New York.

It is said that vice-admiral Fleming will have the command at St. Helena, at the peace, and that he will proceed thither as soon as Sir George Cockburn shall have established Bonaparte there.

PARIS, AUG. 1.

Office of the Minister of General Police

CIRCULAR,

Addressed to the Prefects of the Kingdom.

"Gentlemen—Your relations with me embrace two objects, the establishment of public order and the pacification of the kingdom.

"The King knows the extent of the nation's sufferings; all his efforts tend to assuage them; but we cannot obtain from Europe a happy state until Europe see in the termination of our agitations, and the union of the people with the throne a certain pledge of our and her repose.

"The will of the king has cast a veil over common errors and faults. Thus his Majesty has left the punishment of crimes and treason to the laws, and that suspicion might not be extended, he has been pleased to designate the accused and to limit their number. There is then security for all; no ground, no pretext for disquietude or irritation is left to malevolence. All things in their existing state are under the guarantee of the law and the ægis of a Monarch who wishes to be the father of all Frenchmen.

"Stability is the first object of his Majesty's attention, & the measures which he has prescribed to his Minister. Every sort of re-action, being subversive of s... bility, would be a crime. It would d... turb the tranquility of the State by c... troying all confidence.

"While bending under the weight... Europe, united against an ambition... which we were the first victims, let... at least have the consolation, that n... another drop of blood nor a tear sh... be shed which can be imputed to us.

"The publick interest ought to h... the first rank among all interests. W... then, amidst such publick misfortun... can think of private vengeance? T... is no longer any hope for safety, ther... even no longer any true honor exc... in our union.

"All good citizens have and can ... ly have one sole object, that of term... ating our resentments.—Necessity ... arms even the noblest courage.

"The wish of conciliation is the ... spring of all hearts, because it is the ... pression of all interest. It will sub... all parties, it will triumph over th... passions, because all parties are Fren... men.

"The advantages which France m... yet hope for depend essentially upon ... intimate union with the King. Had ... the nation united with its monarch, ... should have obtained from the Sovere... no guarantee of independence, beca... we could have given none for our tr... quility.

"A great nation, whatever may ... its reverses, can still by the voice of ... King, claim, and cause to be respect... its rights: for justice is beyond ... blows of fortune. The voice of facti... is justly repressed, and will no lon... succeed even in making itself heard.

"There is then a degree of misfo... tune in the crisis of a State in which ne... cessity prescribes that we should sacr... fice all passions to the public welfar... and think only of the whole.—True d... ty, true patriotism now require us to ... nite in one body around the monarc... whose knowledge and eminent virt... have so long been proved. Our count... in resuming her rank among the sta... of Europe, will find a durable prosperi... in her fidelity.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1815.

MARRIED, on Thursday evening last, by the Rev. Joseph Stockdon, Mr. WILLIAM EICHBAUM, Jr. to Miss REBECCA JOHNSTON, daughter of John Johnston, Esq. Postmaster, all of this town.

THE ELECTION

In this county, on Tuesday last, terminated in favour of the Democratic Candidates. Samuel Powers, of Beaver, elected State Senator, for the district composed of the counties of Allegheny, Armstrong, Butler and Beaver.

The London papers which some time since mentioned that the Hon. Mr. Bayard had been appointed minister to the U. S. now say it is lord BURGHERSH.—This nobleman is known by his despatches giving the events of the war from the allied H. Q. He is a member of the House of Commons, and the Court Kalender thus notices him:—"Right Hon. John (FANE) Lord Burghersh, son of the Earl of Westmoreland, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the court of Tuscany, a Colonel in the army, and extra aid-de-camp to the Prince Regent, K. M. T."

From the Analectic Magazine.

DEFENCE OF FORT M'HENRY.

THESE lines have been already published in several of our newspapers; they may still, however, be new to many of our readers. Besides we think that their merit entitles them to preservation in some more permanent form than the columns of a daily paper. The annexed song was composed under the following circumstances.—A gentleman had left Baltimore, in a flag of truce for the purpose of getting released from the British fleet a friend of his who had been captured at Marlborough. He went as far as the mouth of the Patuxent, and was not permitted to return lest the intended attack on Baltimore should be disclosed. He was therefore, brought up the bay to the mouth of the Patapsco, where the flag vessel was kept under the guns of a frigate, and he was compelled to witness the bombardment of FORT M'HENRY, which the Admiral had boasted that he would carry in a few hours, and that the City must fall. He watched the FLAG at the Fort through the whole day with an anxiety that can be better felt than described, until the night prevented him from seeing it. In the night he watched the bomb-shells, and at early dawn his eye was again greeted by the proudly waving FLAG of his country.

TUNE—"Anacreon in Heaven."

O! say can you see by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our FLAG was still there—
O! say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave?

On the shore, dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foes haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream—
'Tis the star-spangled banner, O! long may it wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave.

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore
That the havoc of war & the battles confusion
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has wash'd out their foul footsteps' pollution.
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave—
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave.

O thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
Between their lov'd home and the war's desolation,
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heaven rescued land
Praise the power that hath made and preserv'd us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our Motto—"IN GOD IS OUR TRUST!"
AND THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER IN TRIUMPH SHALL WAVE
O'ER THE LAND OF THE FREE AND THE HOME OF THE BRAVE.

THE JOURNEYMEN SHOEMAKERS of Pittsburgh, have again turned out for higher wages. When all the necessaries of life have fallen greatly in price, and all kinds of mechanics wages are as high as the master employers can afford to pay, this procedure on the part of the Journeymen is perfectly unwarrantable, and it rests with all good citizens who are interested in the prosperity and honor of the town, to discountenance by their marked disapprobation, all combinations of this kind.

TO THE PUBLIC.

A Publication has appeared in the Pittsburgh Gazette of Saturday last, signed "LOUIS LAVAL, Lieut. Rifle Regt" animadverting on my character and conduct as an officer.

Lt. LAVAL, having refused to give me that satisfaction for his slanderous and infamous conduct towards me, which is due from one officer to another, in the first place prefers charges against me, then withdraws those charges without my consent, thereby preventing me from a fair and open investigation of my conduct, and descends to the low and scurrilous expedient of newspaper blackguardism, (at a time when he supposed I was absent from this place, and on my way to Washington, & would be deprived of an opportunity to vindicate my character) being conscious that his charges were void of truth, and could not be supported before a court martial.

He says in the conclusion of his piece "that a court might be laughed at for presuming to cashier a disbanded officer or a citizen acting officer." If this is correct I presume the laugh would very naturally be retorted upon an officer who would "presume" to act under and receive orders from a disbanded officer. Lt. LAVAL will know to whom this points.

I disapprove of this method of deciding quarrels among officers; there are other modes much more congenial to the feelings of a gentleman and man of spirit; but Lt. LAVAL'S address being before the public, I am necessarily, though unwillingly dragged into a reply.

I sincerely hope the public have suspended their opinion respecting my conduct and character, both as an officer and a gentleman until I had an opportunity of proving that that the publication of Lt. LAVAL was a tissue of wilful falsehoods. I feel it a duty which I owe to society to state and assert thus publicly, that Lt. LAVAL is a liar, scoundrel, poltroon, coward and puppy.

S. CHAMBLISS,
Late Lieut. 3d Rifle Regt.

WE the undersigned, officers of the late 3d Rifle Regt. certify, that the general conduct of Lt. S. CHAMBLISS, since he joined his regt. has been that of an officer and a gentleman.

Pittsburgh, October 3, 1815.

PENNSYLVANIA, ss.

IN THE NAME AND BY THE AUTHORITY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

SIMON SNYDER,

GOVERNOR OF THE SAID COMMONWEALTH.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, I have received authentic information, that some time last winter, a certain Negro Man, belonging to PHILIP WINEBIDDLE, late of the county of Allegheny, in this Commonwealth, was found dead; and that by a Coroner's Inquest held on the body of the said Negro, it appeared that the deceased came to his death by beating, and other cruel treatment inflicted on him by the said PHILIP WINEBIDDLE, his master, who has since fled from justice, and refuses to surrender himself, and abide his trial for the said offence: And whereas, the reputation of the government, the peace and security of its citizens, and the obligations of justice and humanity require, that the perpetrator of an offence so heinous, should be brought to speedy and condign punishment. I have therefore thought it proper to issue this Proclamation, hereby offering a Reward of TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS, to any person or persons, who shall apprehend and secure within any jail of this Commonwealth the said PHILIP WINEBIDDLE if brought to trial, and conviction of the said offence: And all Judges, Justices, Sheriffs, Coroners, Constables, and other Officers within this Commonwealth, according to the duties of their respective stations, are hereby required and enjoined to be attentive and vigilant in enquiring after, and bringing to justice the perpetrator of the crime aforesaid.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at Harrisburgh, this twentieth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifteen, and of the Commonwealth the fortieth.

By the Governor,

LOTS FOR SALE
IN THE TOWN OF GRANGER.

THE Subscribers having laid out the Town of Granger, will offer the Lots for Sale on the premises, at Public Vendue, on Thursday the second day of November next.

The Town of Granger is delightfully situated upon an elevated Tract of Land, on the shore of Lake Erie, and west bank of Rock River, in the County of Cuyahoga, and State of Ohio, surrounded by a rich and fertile country, which is rapidly settling. Its situation for healthiness, salubrity of air, purity and convenience of water, and fertility of soil, is not surpassed, if equalled, by any situation upon Lake Erie.

Rocky River is a stream of pure water, affording excellent mill seats, a fine fishery, an inexhaustible quantity of building stone. Stone Coal has been discovered in its banks. The bay is one of the safest and most commodious harbours on the Lake; the course and depth of the channel being never affected by the drifting of sand, a circumstance very uncommon with the mouths of the Lake Rivers. An Island in the River, near the mouth, around which the ice and drift wood are forced by a bend of the River, forms an excellent harbour for shipping secure from storms and floods. The facility of erecting wharfs at a trifling expence, will considerably add to the many advantages of Granger possesses.

The prospect of opening a communication to the navigable waters of Muskingum and Scioto, being 46 miles north of Wooster, 55 miles north-westerly of Canton, 65 miles north-easterly of Mansfield, and 35 miles from the navigable waters of the Ohio; the immediate prospect of good roads in those directions, must, with a few years, bring the commerce of the southern parts of Ohio and the adjacent States, to Lake Erie.

The situation of the Town of Granger, in point of commercial advantages, will give it a decided preference, and bids fair to be a place of considerable importance, worth the attention of the enterprising Merchant, Manufacturer, and Mechanic.

Liberal encouragement will be given to those who make early improvements in the Town.

Terms of Sale, a small portion in hand, and a liberal credit for the residue.

JOHN BEVER,
GIDEON GRANGER,
JOSEPH H. LARWILL,
CALVIN PEASE.

DOCTOR CHISHOLM'S
Anti-Bilious Pills,

Of a quality superior to any thing of the kind ever offered as a GENERAL MEDICINE, in this Country.

NOW prepared from a recipe of the celebrated Dr. Chisholm, who, from a long residence in the West-India Islands, has been enabled to favor the world with the most complete history, and most approved methods of curing all the BILIOUS DISEASES of those warm climates.

This extraordinary Medicine, which now for the first time is finding its way into general practice, has properties in the highest degree superior to the mercurial nostrums so frequently recommended by the name of Anti-Bilious Pills. The extraordinary powers of this medicine as a solvent and evacuent of Bile, is without example; never producing debility or injuring the health, in the smallest degree, of the most delicate child or weakly female:

The BILIOUS HEAD-ACHE, so much complained of in this country, and in the neighbourhood of rivers, is often removed by a single dose, which, to a strong man, is only five pills, and to a weakly woman, three. The same dose will generally remove the most excruciating pains of the cholic, like a charm, by abusing the bile to pass downwards in the course of an hour or two.

Two or three Pills taken an hour before dinner, and repeated every third day, will effectually remove those diseases arising from flatulency and indigestion, and by persevering in the use of them for a considerable time, the appetite will be improved, and strength and vigor will return.

Two Pills taken at bed time, with a cup of penny-royal tea, and repeated every second night, will effectually remove Rheumatic pains wherever seated.

A single Pill, taken every fourth hour with a cup of flaxseed tea, will cure Pleurisy, promote expectoration, and relieve coughs and colds.

In CONSUMPTIVE CASES and DISEASES OF THE LIVER, no medicine ever yet discovered, has been known to perform such cures. Two Pills taken every third morning, will be found sufficient, unless costiveness prevails; in which case the dose may be increased according to the strength or constitution.

The Dysentery, Croup, and Summer Complaint on children, are soon relieved by a few doses. A single Pill to a child of 6 years old, and the dose increased according to their strength and age.

In Asthmatic or Phthisical cases, where the laborious breathing and great oppression, with faintings, are fast sinking the patient to the brink of the grave, a few Pills, taking one every hour, with fennel or pepper-mint tea, will often enable the patient to walk about in a few hours.

The above valuable Medicine is Sold ONLY in Pittsburgh, by
J. P. & J. W. SKELTON,
at their Wholesale and Retail Apothecary and Drug Store.

DOCTOR HANDY'S
WORM
DESTROYING LOZENGES,

A safe and efficacious medicine for destroying and bringing away WORMS.

MAY be used with safety by children of any age, or as common physic by the most delicate constitution, in any climate, without restraint of diet, or the smallest danger from cold. It may be given with advantage after the small-pox or measles; or as a family medicine, in any case where physic is necessary.—The most frequent seat of worms in the human body, is the intestinal tube; but occasionally they have been found in almost every other part of the body.

Some very extraordinary cases of Worms, of an unusual form and appearance, being brought away by these Lozenges, have been made public in England, where the rapid sale of the medicine has exceeded any thing of the kind ever known before; and has also proved, to a demonstration, its approved superiority, as an anthelmintick, to the numerous puffed-up, useless nostrums, which are daily advertised in the newspapers.

A single dose of this valuable medicine has often been known to remove half a pot full of the Teres or Round Worms.

A few doses are generally sufficient to remove the Ascarides, a small white worm, the seat of which is either the stomach or rectum.

Even the Tape Worm, at all times the most difficult to destroy, may, by perseveringin the frequent use of this medicine, be totally removed in the course of a few weeks.

To select cases, with the names of people who are not known here, and living at a great distance, would be useless, and take up too much of the readers time. We shall therefore only observe, for the benefit of those who are acquainted with the symptoms of worms, that they are known or suspected to exist by a pain in the stomach, attended with a sudden depression of spirits before eating; at other times the belly is hard, painful and distended with wind—costiveness, head ache, and trembling of the limbs, with a sense of something rising in the throat—pale complexion and emaciated body, with weakness and irregular appetite—convulsive, epileptic or falling fits—pains in the back and side, and frequent itching of the nose, and sometimes of the anus. The above and a long train of afflicting diseases may all be occasioned by worms, which are much oftener the cause of death than is commonly believed.

The above Valuable MEDICINE, is sold, ONLY, by
J. P. & J. W. Skelton,
At their WHOLESALE & RETAIL Drug Store, at the corner of Wood and Third Streets,
PITTSBURGH.
December 13, 1813.

Storage and Commission BUSINESS.

THE subscribers beg leave to inform their friends and the public, that they have taken that well known WAREHOUSE of Mr. JESSE REDER, near the Steam Mill, CINCINNATI, where they take in Goods on Storage, or to sell on Commission; from their situation, (as it will save drayage) and attention to business, they flatter themselves that it will be to the advantage of those, who have business to be done in this line, to favour them with it.
